To-day's balloting in the teachers' contest | Dispatch' at this office or at any of the was marked by large additions to the list of branch offices in the city. candidates, and the polling of very heavy votes by candidates who had not previously shown such strength. There was some change among the leaders. Mrs. Fanning moved up to the second place, and Miss Watson retired to third. There was shifting all along the line, due to energetic work on the part of many teachers' friends.

Miss Sophie J. McElwain of Crow school was advanced by a 200 per cent increase in her vote. Mrs. Marie Erskine of Everett, Miss Flora C. Fredrick of Blow and Miss Susle H. M. Hewitt of O'Fallon having received a large number of ballots in the past two days have been materially advanced.

Large numbers of ballots were received last Miss Pritchett, Miss Fanning, Miss Watson, Miss Glitz, Miss Kaufman, Miss Maguire, Miss Erskine, Miss McElwain and others among the leaders. The count closed to-day before all the ballots could be handled, and the remainder will appear in to-morrow's rearrangement of the list. The two most popular teachers in the cityand their popularity will be decided by this contest-will be given a two months' trip to Europe at the expense of the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH. This trip is to be under the direction of the Cooks Tourist Co., which celebrated association will make all arrangements, in the way which has made it famous for many years. The election of the two teachers is to be left to the public, in the manner fully explained in the rules below. The contest is to close about the first of June, the last ballot appearing in the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH of

Since the contest was begun a third prize has been added. Through the kindness of the Mermod & Jaccard Jewelry Co. a magnificent ladies' gold watch and chain will be given to the lady teacher receiving the third highest vote. The watch is of the latest style and the finest workmanship and is heavily studded with diamonds. The chain is of the finest gold; to it is attached a heart in filigree work and diamonds. The watch and chain are on exhibition in the windows of the Mermod & Jaccard establishment, at Broadway and Lo-To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: cust. The cost price of this is $200.
STRONG INDORSEMENTS. DEAR SIR-Please correct an error you have been making in the list of popular teachers. Miss Williams of the Pestalozzi and Miss Lizize R. Williams of the Gravois.

AN EX-PUPIL.

The following indorsements are reprinted from the Post-Disparch of March 26. They go to show what leading men in control of the public schools think of the election:

DR. HUGO AULER,
President of the Board of Public Schools, when asked what he thought of the Post DISPATCH plan, said:

"I think the idea is an excellent one-I do. indeed. The contest has my most hearty indorsement, for I believe that it will do the schools a great deal of good. AN ADMIRER.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Your offer of giving to two lady teachers an opportunity of crossing the ocean on a pleasure trip. Is very commendable.

In taking the trip, they will probably be absent for several months. In order that their friends may look upon their countenances and Reep them in remembrance while absent, we will make the following offer to the two successful candidates:

After the votes have been counted and the award made, we will make a present to each of the two most popular lady teachers a finely excuted lifesize Crayon portrait of themselves, framed in a fancy carved oak frame, delivered free of charge, at their home or any place designated by them.

Trusting this will meet with your approval, we are respectfully yours, N. M. FRIEDMAN & CO. The following is the full vote for every candidate in the election arranged in the order of the number of votes cast for each. Some hundreds of votes which reached this office very late were unavoidably held over until tomorrow, when they will be reported in the To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

For Miss McCann. St. Louis, April 8. Testerday's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH contains the name of Kate McDonaid among the list of teachers voted for at Benton school. Now, there is no such teacher at the Benton school, Now, there is no such teacher at the Benton school, and I feel convinced that these votes should be credited to Miss Kate F. McCann, Benton. Would you kindly make inquiry and let me know. Miss McCann should be higher up on the list than yesterday's paper would seem to indicate. Yours, The mistake was made by the voter. It has

Appears in a thousand different forms and causes a vast amount of suffering. Scarcely a single person is entirely free from its effects. Hence the necessity of a reliable blood puriner like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which eradicates every impurity, and gives to the blood vitality and health. It cures scrotula, sait rhenm, humors, boils, pimples, said all other affections caused by impurities or poisonous germs in the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla also overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite, cures drapapes, billiousness and headache, and builds up the whole system.

A fair, honest trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla will conversed to the conversity of the cause and reason that it does possess years a medicinal merit. We do not claim that every bottle, taken according to directions, does produce positive benefit and makes a new and constant friend. This is demonstrated in New England, where Hood's Sarsaparilla has been known for ten vears, and where its saile is continually increasing. Its peculiar curative power is shown by the many remarkable cures it has accomplished.

"From childhood I was troubled with pimples; and every remedy failed till I took Hood's Sarsapartila. I have taken five bottles and pow the pimples are raimost gone, and my general ficalth is much improved. I am feeling better than for some time, and J lightly recommend Hood's Sarsapartila." W. EYANS, 465 Lexington avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. "It gives me pleasure to testify to the superior curative properties of Hood's Sarsapartila." In debilitated conditions of the system Hood's Sarsapartila can be used with certainty of cure." A. LEONARD, Supt. of schools, New Holland, O. "We all like Hood's Sarsapartila, it is so strengthening." LIZZIE BALFOUR, Auburn, R. I. Blood Poisoning ening." Lizzie Balfour, Auburg, R. I.

Blood Poisoning

"I was poisoned by poison ivy, and let it go till the poison got into my blood, when I was obliged to give up work, and was confined to my house for two months. I had sores and scales on me, my finger nails came off, and my hair and whiskers came out. I had two physicians, but did not seem to get much better. Then I saw Hood's Sarsaparilia advertised, and bought a bottle. It helped me so much that I continued taking it till I had used three bottles, when I was cured. I can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilia and I am pleased to say the rheumatic pains ceased, my appetite and direction became better, and my general health greatly improved. I am firmly general that Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me, as I have felt no recurrence of this blood disease." WM. Scoon, Geneva, N. Y.

"Yor five years I was sick every spring, but last year took Hood's Sarsaparilla and have not issens sick day since." G. W. Sloan, Milton, Mass.

"A year ago I suffered from indigestion, had terrible headaches, very little appetite; in fact, seemed completely broken down. On taking Hood's Sarsararilia I began to improve, and now I have a good appetite, and my health is excellent compared to what it was. I am better in spirits, am not troubled with cold feet or hands, and am entirely cured of indigestion." MINNIX MANNING, Newburgh, Orange County, N. Y.

Sick Headache
'I have been subject to bad spells of sick headache for a number of years and could get nothing to help, me for any length of time until I took Hood's Barsaparilla. This medicine, though it relieved me from the first, I continued to use until I had fullshed six bottles. I have not had the sick headache since. Mrs. N. E. KING, wife of Judge D. S. King, Wilmington, Ohlo.

N. B. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Scrofulous Sore Neck
"My daughter Mary was afflicted with serofulous sore neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became 6 years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them, after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child."
J. S. Carline, Nauright, N. J.
"My son was afflicted with the worst type of scrofula, and on the recommendation of my druggist I gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla. To-day he is sound and well, notwithstanding it was said there was not enough medicine in illinois to effect a cure." J.

MR. PHELAN'S CHALLENGE.

Editor Fleming Writes a Sarcastic Reply

Declining to Fight. NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 9 .- Hon. James of this State, has challenged Col. John M. Fleming, Editor of the Knoxville Sentinel, to fight a duel. 'Col. Fleming has reftsed, and in declining he makes public the challenge and his answer. The trouble grows out of the his answer. The trouble grows out of the criticism of Mr. Phelan's history of the State, which was published a short time ago. Col. Fleming wrote some vigorous reviews of it which appeared in the Sentinel and Mr. Phelan replied to some strictures of the Commercial and in the same letter apoke of Col. Fleming as "the half-witted editor of the Knoxville Sentinel, who wrote to me for an advance copy of my book, which was not furnished, and who, for his life, does not know the difference between a fact and an opinion."

Col. Fleming denied that he had ever had any communication whatever with Mr. Phelan, and there the matter lay until Sunday morning, when Col. Fleming received the following telegram:

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.

To John M. Fleming, Knoxville, Tenn.:

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5.

To John M. Fleming, Knoxville, Tenn.:
When I wrote you from Aiken I had not seen your letter to the Memphis Commercial.
You are a liar, a coward and a secundrel. I will await your message here, and come to Knoxville to arrange preliminaries.
(Signed)

No. 1610 Nineteenth street.

Col. Fleming sent no answer to Mr. Pletan, but yesterday afternoon published the following in the Sentine!

ENOXYLLE. Tenn. April 8.—Hon. James Phelan, 1810 Nineteenth street, Washington, D. C.: Illness only prevented an immediate reply to your telegram of the 6th inst. In considering it now I am reminded of the remark attributed to an old citizen of this place, who, when assailed with similar language, amsingly inquired, "Am I to consider that a compilment or a onlogy?"

When I say to you that the reading of your wrathful telegram excited first amazement, then anuscement, tempered with pity, I tell your a simple truth. You say you will await your (my) measage here and come to Knoxville to arrange the preliminaries. What message, pray, did you expect from me? Did you imagine that such an ebullistion of puerile rage could seriously disturb me for one single moment? Did you linead it for a challengs to hostile combat? Or had you the superistive vanity to suppose that I would feel called on to challenge you? Let me assure you your epithets affect me not in the way designated. Ordinarily it would be otherwise, but nusmuch as my letter to the Nemphia Commercial, to which you refer as having excited your wrath, simply, plainly and incontestably proved you to have been deliberately and usally guilty of the meral offsuse implied in your first epithet, you ought to see that your own soursility is but evidence of the presence of conscious guilt. This much by way of serions explanation.

Now, my dear exasperated historian, consider in what a grotsque position yon have placed yourself. You hold a seat in Congress from a district of Tennessee. You have assumed to know the constitutions and legal penalties against the giving, sending or accepting a challenge to the children of the State as a historian in the public schools. You ought to know and are presumed to know the manual arming, is a challenge. The remarks are offered for your profitable consideration, not ly way of evaluing your enters the matter. There could so he ha with coarse denunciations, which, if true, and you are stopped from denying them would exclude me from "recognition" by "a gentieman," and therefore not worthy, by your own charges, of being challenged the thermore, my observation has usual seen that the "denunciation" follows the fusal to accept a challenge. Insamuch I had thermore, my observation has usual that the "denuncisation" follows the fusal to accept a challenge. Inasmuch it had proven you gulity of what, in retailation, you charge upon me, I am inclined to think the "authorities" in the "duello" would tell you it was your duty to have demanded the satisfaction usual among "gentlemen." I merely call your attention to these points to show how ridiculous you have made yourself, even as a pretended "duelist."

But I take no advantage of even this. In times past the men who have specially commanded my admiration were those who had the courage to treat with contempt the demand of the duelist, while recognizing and insisting upon the manly right of self-defense. I would have been surprised but recently to find that you had lived with so little learning as not to have known that the barbarous role, in which you have seen fit to display your self, no longer serves to give respectability among even that weaker class that once thought it "chivairous" to make even a bloodless exhibition of mock codrage on the so-called "field of honor."

I have treated your warlike message as seriously as its ludicrous character permitted. I have made no comment on the remarkable fact that your wrath did not develop itself until after your return to Washingston. Your letter from Aiken, S. C., which reached me only the night before I received your dispatch, showed that you had read in the Ecening Democrat of Memphis the substance of my leading letter to the Conservation, was temperate and respectful in tone as could have been desired. I fear you ree "addicted to moods." Indeed, I am pretty well persuaded that you have been a spoiled boy, flattered into a deluvive assumption of some cort of personal superfority an instortune which often times follows too little spanking and too much petting. It requires, sometimes, a rude back set or two to take the starch out of self-concelt. We have no "preliminaries" to arrange, Mr. Fleam.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 9 .- By request the House Committee on Agriculture to-day re-opened the hearing on the Conger lare compound bill and the Butterworth antioption bill, both of which have been reported to the House with favorable recommendations. On the first named bill Messrs A. Graves, representing the Georgia Agricultural Association, and J. Pennoye Jones, representing the colored cotton farmers and planters of Arkansas, both colored was made arrangers, and agricultural transactions. Agricultural Association, and J. Pennoyer Jones, representing the colored cotton farmers and planters of Arkansas, both colored men, made arguments against its passage. In the course of his argument on the bill Mr. Jones said: "If the cotton seed oil mast be taxed why not tax the Western hog? Why break down one industry of the country that another industry should be protected? The Republican party is committed to the policy of protection of American industry. It is so enunciated in its platforms and to its musle it has marched to victory. But Mr. Chairman, if the Republican party at Chicago had placed in the platform of its principles the singular creed that one industry of our country should be taxed to death that another indstry at home should be protected and live, on an appert to the country they would have been buried so deep by the weight of public disfavor that the trump of Gabriel would not awake them. If the late canvass settled one thing or principle it was protection. But that protection was upon the broad lines dictated by common sense, to wit: Protection to all American industries, American mechanics and American industries, American mechanics and American industries, against toreign manufacturers, foreign mechanics and foreign pauper labor. The system inaugurated by the Republican party in taxing one American industry to protect another is an innovation that will be resented by the great mass of our people, and hurlany party from power that insanely attempts it."

"So far as the Democratic party is concerned, it is committed to free trade. It claims to be in favor of lessening taxes and reducing the tariff. If there is anything in their professions, or in the principles laid down in their platform, then we confidently look to their creed as laid down by their leaders is a matter that surprises and surpasses us. Gentlemen of the committee, this bill, stripped of all guises, resolves itself into this condition: The Western hog against the Southern phase of this industry. There is another phase of th matter that surprises and surpasses us. Gentiemen of the committee, this bill, stripped of all guises, resolves itself into this condition: The Western hog against the Southern negro; which will win? There is another phase of this industry. There are supposed to be over 200 oil mills, mostly located at the South. They employ somewhere in the neighborhood of 75,000 persons, more than three-fourths of this great number of employes are colored men. It would be safe to say that there are at least three persons who rely upon each of these 75,000 persons for their support and living from this enterprise. The wages paid to these people aggregate $3,500,000 at the least calculation. The pissare of this bill would close up many mills and, perchance, throw thousands of dependent people out of employment and entail nardship and want upon people who are least able to stand it. And all this is to protect the Western hog."

Rev. Silas P. Chapin, who was for years the pastor of the Summit Avenue Methodist Church in East St. Louis, was tried before eight divines of the Methodist Episcopal Conference of the Lebanon District of Southern Illinois yesterday afternoon on the charge of immoral conduct. There were two specific charges against him, preferred in writing by Rev. John Leeper and Rev. L. W. Thrall. The charges amounted to an accusa portion of the funds collected in various with which to construct the handsom new edifice which bears the name of the Sum mit Avenue M. E. Church. This edifice was ion of a building committee, composed of Messrs. C. D. McCasiand, R. H. Canine. James White, Hugh Mills and Charles L. Manners, but the funds were ontrolled by Rev. Chapin, who had charge o term as pastor. The new edifice was dedi cated on the 30th day of September, 1888, and one feature of the ceremonies of the day was the reading of Pastor Chapin's financia statement, which set forth that the churc debt was $5,500. One of the charges specified against the Rev. Chapin was that the state ment was fraudulent, it being claimed that the amount of the church debt was much great er than stated. In February, 1889 the new church building was formally the new church building was formally transferred to the trustees of the Church Society by the Building Committee. On this occasion another financial statement prepared by Rev. Chapin, setting forth that the church debt was $5,037.07, was read. The statement bore the approval signatures of three members of the Building Committee, Messrs. Canine, McCasland and White. Messrs. Manners and Mills had refused to sign. The second charge specified against Rev. Chapin was that this statement was also fraudulent, the claim being made, as in the first charge, that the church Mills had refused to sign. The second charge specified against Rev. Chapin was that this statement was also fraudulent, the claim being made, as in the first charge, that the church debt was greater than stated. As a result of these charges, which were made about the time of the completion of the church building, Rev. Chapin was deposed from the pastorate and has not since been assigned to any church by the conference. Yesterday afternoon Presiding Elder J. D. Gillham of Belleville, Rev. W. F. Seed of Trenton, Rev. John Leeper of Jersey-ville and Rev. Chapin met at the Summit Avenue Church to adjust the difficulty. Rev. Chapin was pormally Agrands and the written charges were read. Rev. Gillham presided as Judge. Rev. Leeper prosecuted the case and Rev. Chapin defended himself. The others sat as arbitrators. The trial was duckly wonerating. Rev. Chapin was quickly congreting.

nimself. The others sat as arbitrators. The trial was short, and a verdict completely exonerating. Rev. Chapin was quickly rendered. The two members of the Building Committee who had refused to sign Rev. Chapin's second financial statement were the only witnesses examined beside the defendant. During the examination no testimony that would sustain the charges was chicked, the witnesses being only able to say that they thought Rev. Chapin's statements fraudulent, and were satisfied the church debt was greater than shown by him, and were convinced that a portion of the funds of the church had been misappropriated. With this the arbitrators took the case under consideration, and within five minutes rendered a verdict of not guilty.

A COUNCIL MEETING.

At a special meeting of the City Council yesterday afternoon, Robert Lowrey and Martin Robins were called upon to testify in regard to the wote for Aiderman in the Third. Ward at the election on the 1st. The witnesses were judges at the Third Ward poil on that day, and superintended the count of the ballots. It appeared from their statements that the count showed a tie. The total number of votes cast was 220. Two of these the judges decided were illegal, and they were thrown out. Of the 218 remaining 109 were cast for Robert Thomas and the same number for Wm. Edinger. After the count a ballot cast for Thomas was thrown out, against the akylee of Mr. Lowrey, and the election of Mr. Edinger was certified to the commissioners. Mr. Lowrey stated that his signature had been attacked to the certificate during the afternoon, as were those of Mr. Robins and the clerks. This was done to save time after the poils had closed. Mr. Lowrey said that but for this circumstance his name would not have appeared on the certificate. The Council will hold another meeting shortly to decide the matter.

NERVOUS DYSPEPS

GAS, HEARTBURN AND STOMACH PAINS.

WE are a nervous people, and are becoming more so every day; hence the great increase of Nervous Dyspepsia. Digestion is the cornerstone of nutrition, and on nutrition depends life itself. It has been truly said that nine-tenths of all diseases originate in the stomach; people are complaining every day of different diseases that are due wholly and entirely to indigestion. Sallow faces, dull eyes and emaciated bodies seen on every side, are the certain indications of dyspepsia. To these sufferers we say make a test of ROGERS' ROYAL NERVINE, the greatest of all nerve and brain tonics; it overcomes that condition of extreme exhaustion accompanied by loss of flesh, hectic fever, night sweats and hacking cough, which is often mistaken by physicians for consumption, when really the whole fault lies in the stomach and the nervous system. Thousands of such persons die every year when their lives might have been easily saved by the use of ROGERS' ROYAL NERVINE; it has been tested in case after case of this kind, and the results are simply magical.

Gentlemen: - I am using Rogers' Royal Nervine for nervous prostration and mental depression, and I wish to say to you, and in fact every one, that its value cannot be estimated. It easily tides me over my weak spells, and that, too, without any apparent reaction, which I cannot say of any other of the many medicines that I have used for this purpose, and from the fact that I feel no reaction, I can see that it is gradually toning up my general system. Gratefully yours, Mrs. MARY FRAZIER. 20 Liberty St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

The Death of James Brennan Leaves Quar antine Without a Patient.

James Brennan, the leper, is no more. He died at Quarantine Hospital between 6 and o'clock last evening after a two years' stay in that institution and several vain attempts to secure his liberty. He did not like the idea of staying in exile and neither did his sister, has worked with might and main since he was taken in by the health authorities to get him out of the hands of the authorities. The case has attracted much attention on account of the efforts made by his sister to get him out of the quarantine, and because of the difference of opinion concerning the nature of his disease. Dermatologists who investigated the case generally agreed, however, nearly a year ago, and it was several days before he was secured by the health officers and sent back to Quarantine Hospital. It was after this his sister, aided by several physicians, instituted proceedings to secure his liberty. He was brought up to the City Hall and examined by a number of experts and the consensus of opinion sustained the Health Department, He was then brought into the Circuit Court on a writ of habeas corpus, but this plan also proved a failure and since then he has remained in the hospital, thirteen miles below the city. He began growing weaker some six months ago, and his death has since been expected at any time. He was given every attention he could desire, having a nurse and every delicacy he asked. every day, the skin peeling off in flakes and the joints of his toes and fingers dropping off. The disease, as it generally does, progressed slowly but surely, and the physicians who examined his case pronounced thopeless.

His sister visited him frequently and showed an attachment for him that was the subject of many expressions of praise. She stoutly maintained that he did not have the leprosy and referred to her frequent visits to him as evidence in support of her foilm.

Brennan was 45 years of age and was, prior to his removal to quarantine, of a roving disposition. He was a sallor years ago and worked on vessels salling between New Orleans, he said, he contracted the disease which the physicians pronounced leprosy. He always insisted it was another skin disease. About two years ago he visited Dr. Ohman-Dumensil's office and, after making a thorough examination, that physician pronounced.

OTTAWA, Ontario, April 9.—The Cabinet has decided to extend the modus vivendi for the coming fishing season. The amicable manner in which the fishery laws of Canada were car ried out last year, owing to the general acceptance of the modus vivendi arrangement by the New England fishermen and the prospect of an early resumption of the negotiations in reference to the settlement of the Atlantic fisheries dispute, have induced the Government to take this step.

Two Fines in One Day. William Dolan was tried on two charges in the First District Police Court this morning. One was for disturbing the peace and the other for carrying concealed weapons. On each he was fined in the sum of $25, and he will probably go to the Work-house in default of payment.

Dolan is only about 18 years of age. On the evening of April 1 he had a fight with one Joseph Devlin in front of 416 South Fourth street, in which he drew a pocket-knife and langed at his opponent. Devlin threw up his hand to ward off the blow and with slightly cut across the fingers. He cause Dolan's arrest on the charge of disturbing the peace.

When taken to the station, Dolan was warched and a slung shot, a chunk of lead in a handkerchief, was found on him. He was then booked for the two charges and retaliated by filing a counter charge against Dolan for disturbing the peace. Devlin was discharged on the evidence this morning.

THE QUALITY OF MERCY.

Judge Anderson Discusses Judicial Clem ency and His Critics. Judge Anderson was seen this morning, and he spoke regarding the complaints of police officers in respect to the alleged excessive leniency shown to prisoners by him, as folleniency shown to prisoners by him, as follows:

"To a person who does not carefully look into the cases which are brought up before the court many things which are not on the surface escape their notice. I do not think that there is an official in this city who looks into cases which are brought before his notice for his opinion who examines into their merits any more carefully than I. I make it a point always to find out everything about a case that I can, and therefore thinks that escape the notice of others are brought to my attention.

the notice of others are brought to my attention.

"These people who are brought up before the Second District Police Court are like children in some respects. You know that some children will be greatly influenced by reasoning, while it is necessary to whip some. That is the way with these people. The lesson taught by being brought before the court is sufficient for some, while with others it is necessary to send them to the Work-house. It a young man, who has never been arrested before, comes up before me for some trifing forces I think that greater injury—ald be caused by his being sent to the Work-house in min in giving him some advice and permitting him to go. Then again in fining a prisoner great discretion must be used. In some cases the imposing of a fine for a slight offense upon a man would be taking just so much bread out of the mouths of his family, as sending him to the Work-house would deprive them of his support. In such more than if he were made pay the fine as once. There are two sides to the question of course and I am sure that the public looks as its in that way."

SUBLIME ASSURANCE.

After the manner of little men who use the good names and noble aims of great men to cover their own base purposes, the Hendricks Association will endeavor to steal a ray of shining henor from the fame of Thomas Jefferson by celebrating his 145th birthday.

The Hendricks Association is emboldened to thus levy upon the virtues of the founder of Democracy because he is dead founder of Democracy because he is dead and cannot resent the insult which is offered to his fame. But there should be some protection for a dead statesman from the insulting assumption of fellowship on the part of a pack of hungry office-seekers and broken down political hacks. It is a case of the darkness of the night celebrating the brightness of the day. The north and the south poles are not now more widely separated than the principles of Jefferson and the purposes of the Hendricks Association. One believed that the highest function of government is to secure the best prosperity and happiness of the people, and the other believes that it is to furnish salaries for politicians; one believed that the highest privilege of the citizen is to serve the State from patriotic motives and the other believes that it is to draw the highest previble selected in a dead of Police Commission-ers.

In its inception the Hendricks Association was a club of office-holders formed to maintain their holds on the offices. Its foundation principles are salary-grabbing and office-seeking. Its members are pledged to support each other's designs on the public crib. It has been a disgrace to Democracy and has been repudiated by honest Democrats. And yet it has the sublime assurance to celebrate the birthday of the first great Democrat.

OPTIONS AND FUTURES. The Passage of the Butterworth Bill Recommended to the Hense.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 9.-In a bulki and lengthy report submitted by Chairman Function of the House Committee on Agriculture, yesterday, the passage of the Butter worth bill defining options and futures and imposing a tax on dealers is recommended The report was algued by every member of committee and the bill promises to soon become a law, as there is hardly a doubt that is will pass the House.

The report proceeds to demonstrate how this fictitious buying and selling injuriously affects the legitimate market. The suggestion of those who oppose the proposed legislation, that wherever there is a seller there must be a buyer, and that in the end equilibrium will be preserved, the report says is not conclusive. The fact is that dealing in puts and calls and futures reduces the market price to the lowest point attainable against the resisting force of the actual supply, often below the cost of production. The dealer in options is not required to have, receive or deliver one ounce of any of the articles, millions of pounds of which he buye or sells. These pass upon record as legitimate transactions made with reference to the supply and demand.

The first and second sections of the bill depass upon record as legitimate transactions made with reference to the supply and demand.

The first and second sections of the bill define the character of futures and obtions, and the third section mentions the articles to which the bill applies. They are wheat, corn, cats, cotton, pork and other farm staples. Sec. 4 imposes a tax of 51,000 upon dealers in options or futures, and imposes a tax of 5 cents per pound and 20 cents per bushel upon the articles which are the subject matter of option sales. The remaining sections of the bill provide for carrying into effect and enforcing the measures proposed. "The bill in terms does, and is intended to apply to that class of transactions," says the report, "conducted in the bucketshops and grain pits of the country, known as puts and cails, including the whole range of mere speculative gambling in fletitious farm products. It does not affect injuriously any legitimate trader or dealer in farm staples. It seeks to and does impose an internal revenue tax upon those dealers in grain, cotton and pork who, as a rule, never see, own or handle a peck or pound of the articles they sell. It applies to dealers whose transactions have the least possible reference to the demand for consumption; who are not concerned whether the harvests are blighted or bountiful."

The bill, which in terms affects transactions for future delivery which are innocent in themselves and do no harm to any one, is yet intended to reach that class of speculators only who sell what they do not own, who sell with no purpose or intent, near or remote, to deliver what they sell, who require little

COL. JOHN VAN ARMAN. Death of a Once Famous Criminal Lawye

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispators.
CHICAGO, Ill., April 9.—Col. John Van man of this city died Saturday at San Diego, Cal. of nervons prostration. He was 70 years old, a native of Plattsburg, N.Y., and for many years was the brightest ornament of the criminal bar of Cook County. A single act of his made him famous. He was defending a baker accused of poisoning several persons and the State produced in evidence some of the biscutts and evidence some of the biscuits and cakes supposed to contain the same kind of poison. The State's Attorney claimed that the cakes were of the same baking as the poisoned ones, but Van Arman insisted that they were not. During his closing address to the jury he picked up several of the biscuits and devoured them with apparent relish, to the astonishment of the spectators. His client was acquitted. He prosecuted the famous railroad conspiracy case for the Michigan Central Railroad in 1851, Secretary of State Seward being the leading lawyer for the conspirators, against William C. Creveling, the agreement by which all

This is a proceeding in squiry instituted by plaintiffs to restrain the defendant from erecting or occupying any building, the froat wall of which will be nearer than twenty-flye feet to the south line of defendant's lot, on the north side of Lucas place in block No. 908. between Twentiath and Twenty-flust streets, in the city of St. Louis.

There is but little, if any, conflict in the testimony offered by the parties to this suit. It appears from the evidence that the only restriction that is claimed to have ever been legally imposed on a building line, consists of a "dotted line" shown upon the original plat and sundry conveyances of lots in different blocks. The defendant's attention was called to this line before he concluded the purchase of these lots. He made inquiry and was told by Robert J. Lucas that the title was clear and contained no restrictions whatever. There is no testimony tending to show that the defendant had any notice of the alleged agreement between Lucas and Hunt as to a building line at the time he bought the property. The records show that there is no mention of a building line in any of the partition deads made between Lucas and Hunt and their heirs or in the proceedings in court to partition their estates. Nor is there anything on the eigenal plat to indicate the meaning. If any, the "dotted line" was intended to convey.

Mo RECORD OF A RUILDING LINE.

The defendant was also advised by his attorney and by Mr. Genner, an experienced and skillful examiner of titles to real property, rhat the records did not show any legally established building line. At the time of the service of the notice upon defendant of plaintiff intended application for an injunction, the defendant had entered into a contract for the erection of a building and the foundation waits were nearly completed. The evidence further shows that plaintiffs and their grantors stood by and permitted a large of the key lot of the street heart of hunding. Plaintiff Davis admitted on cross-examination that with the knowledge and neighborhood has changed in the last ten years as much, it is not likely that it will ever be in demand again for residence purposes.

It is further claimed by plaintiffs that their view eastwardly is obstructed by reason of the erection of the defendant's factory on the north line of the street. But this allegation is disproved by their own testimony. Mr. Davis, Dr. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson all testified that the removal of the southern 25 feet of the defendant's factory would not improve their view unless the building of the Seed Dry Plate Co. which adjoins it on the east should also be set back the same distance, and thus no notice of the alleged building line was ever given to that company by plaintiffs or anyone else.

The attention of the defendant was called to the dotted line before he purchased, but it was not explained on the plat, and would not of itself greate a restriction. If he had also had either actual or constructive notice before he paid any portion of the consideration, that said line was intended to represent a building line established by Lucas and Hunt he might have been bound by their agreement, and would under ordinary circumstances be restrained from violating it. (Pomeroy's Equity, vol. 2, sec. 689-691.) Such agreements, whether in writing or by parcel, fasten an equitable easement or servitude upon the land and would secure to plaintiffs the right to an amenity in the use of defendant's lots by which plaintiffs' property might be enhanced in value. (Trustees vs. Lynch, 70 N. Y., 441, Sharp vs. Cheatham, 88-Mo., 507; and 2 Washburn on real property, page 323.) But the evidence falls to show that the defendant ever had either actual or constructive notice of the alleged agreement between Lucas and Hunt, or notice that any legally imposed restriction ever existed.

But in my judgment whatever rights plaint-or notice that any legally imposed restriction ever existed.

But in my judgment whatever rights plaintiffs may have had to insist upon combiliance by defendant with the alleged building restrictions have unquestionably been waived by their acquiescence in the repeated viointion thereof by others for many years.
(Pomeroy's Equity, Vol. 2, Sec. 317.)
NOT AN EQUITABLE PROCEEDING.
A suit in equity to compel compiliance with such restrictions should be announced before the defendant had expended money in erecting a building on the premises. If would be contrary to equity to suffer a party to live by and see acts done involving expense to others and then permit him to enforce his rights, and thereby inflict loss and damage on persons acting in good faith. (Hall vs. Webster, 7 Mo.

By Telegraph to the Post-Disparce.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Mrs. Howard W. Blinz died at 12:30 yesterday on the way to the New York Hospital in an ambulance. She had poisoned herself with aconite. The papers on December 4 published an account of an altercation the night before in West Thirteenth street, between a well-dressed young man and a handsome blonde woman. To a policeman who was attracted by their quarrel they said that they were man and wife. The man said his wife refused to go with him and declared her husband of her. They were taken to the Ninesenth Preinted attained. They went in a cab to the Hotel. Devonshire, where they registered as Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Morris. Their real name was at club-house at tide East Fourteenth street, a resort of sporting men. He is a well-known figure at baly's. By the time the vessel ha reached Quarantine the session was ended and reached Quarantine the session was ended and the trevenue cutter Chandler was waiting to Circuit Attorney Cloyer.

Finchman worked a good game in this city last December. He went to the boardinghouse kept by Lila Mathews, at 2806 Stodard street, and engaged board for a number of men. He represented that he was the foreman of a gang of men employed by the Laclede Electric Light Co. On the strength of this statement he induced Mrs. Mathews to advance him Sil as a commission. The boarders never came and the matter was reported to the police.

The next heard of Finchman was a few days afterwards, when he went to the house of Louise Mon, 907 South Ninth street, and attempted to secure $25 by a similar scheme. The island of the previous fraud, however, and did not bite at the bait. Officers Davis and Mansfield of the Central District arrested Finchman. He has been locked up in the jail ever since.

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., April 9 .- A flerce storn swept over this place at 11 o'clock last night, only one person was injured, a number had northwest and the path of destruction was about half a mile wide. The Catholic Church, a large structure, gave way before the blast and fell into a shapeless mass. The houses of M. Rafferty and Martin Biettel, which adjoined the church on the west, were next blown over, their occupants es caping in their night clothes without injury. The roof was lifted off Mrs. Collins' large resi dence and hurled into the lot and dashed into splinters, the residence occupied by C. Stoker and his family unroofed and otherwise damaged. Mr. Kreger's residence suffered similar damage and an old lady in the house was seriously hurt by a large piece of wood which struck her in the side. Pitt's black-smith shop, a large-sized frame structure, was carried twenty feet and torn to pieces. The roof was blown off the grocery store o Thomas Evans, the building was badly shattered and serious damage was done to his stock. The front of Goldburg's store was blown in and the stock scattered in all direc tions. The Central Hotel lost nearly all its blinds and was otherwise damaged. The front wind and a large portion of her stock ruined. Outbuildings and fences all over the place were blown down, trees were prostrated and the town was shaken up generally. The damage cannot be accurately estimated, but will probably reach $40,000.

A Terrible Hail Sterm.

ROBERTS, Ill., April 9.—Several persons were injured last evening by a terrible hallrm which struck this section about 7:80 o'clock. Chunks of ice weighing seven ounces knocked nearly all the windows out of the west side of the buildings and other dam-age was done. La Harps, a small town, was also visited by the storm and damage to win-dow glass is reported.

In Ohio.

CLEVELAND, O., April 9 .- The town of Nor walk was struck by a cyclone yesterday after-noon about 3 o'clock. An umbrella factory noon about 3 o'clock. An umbreils factory run by Sprague & French, in which thirty girls were employed, was struck by the storm and blown down. Dors Palmer was fatally injured and died in a few hours. Nelle Harding was seriously injured about the head and body. Miss Burch had her collar bone broken, and a number of other girls received minor injuries. A large number of barns and outbuildings were wrecked, and fences, trees, etc., were blown down.

The Stock Exchange Enacting Rules Against Trusts-Buil News on the Pacific.

By the Gaylord-Blessing Private Wire. From New York, 9 a. m.—The chief topic in Stock Exchange circles up town last evening was about the declaration of the governors of the Stock Exchange against the trusts, and that it had been voted that no further quotations in them after July I were to be authorized; at the same time the charges for buying and selling them were to be raised to 4s commission each way. There was very little talk about the stock market last night because the volume of trading reflected the duilest speculation of the year, nevertheless the squarest and richest stock houses in the street continue to state the tone is favorable for a higher market and this is what they tell their clients. They say that good stocks remain scarce and a very moderate attempt on the part of built raders to put the market up would undoubtedly be very successful. The Vanderblistocks are scarce and there are strong intimations of something of an important nature coming out presently which is going to put them up about 5 per cent. Money is going to be easy enough the capitalists say, and so long as speculation is dormant and no funds are required the bears are powerless to manipulate interest rates. and selling them were to be raised to by Chicago, 10:30 a. m.—It is now proposed to reorganize the Western States Passonger Association, making western limits the river, as before. This will leave out the Missouri Pacific and enable roads to advance rates in the West.

New York, 11 a. m.—The earnings of the Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western for the first week of April increased $2,286.

New York, noon.—The market is in most respects a continuation of that of yesterday, that is, it is almost entirely featureless. The only movement worthy of comment is the conspicuous buying of Union Pacific by one house, which has advanced the price of the stock by per cent. This buying is accompanied by undefined rumors of some developments of importance to the company. The general market is so featureless as really to require no comment. Money, 4 to 442 per cent.

HRAVY LOSSES COMPEL A WELL-KNOWN FIRM'S RETIREMENT FROM BUSINESS.

olsan, Farley & Co., Forced to the Wall, but Will Pay in Full-Causes of the Failure-Fraley Accepts His Creditors Terms-St. Louis Markets Leading the tirement from bust tiremens from business of the commission firm of Golsan, Farley & Co. This firm has been in business. Sness for several years, having succeeded R. W. Golsan, a well-known dealer in grain. Early in the morning it was rumored that the firm was in difficul-ties, had declined to put up any further margins on open trades, and desired to close all deals on hand. When the call opened Caller Carr read the following letter from Golsan,

Farley & Co.:

"Please inform members of the Call that are interested, owing to very heavy losses we desire to discontinue business, and that we will close, out trades as fast as we get instructions from customers. Please request them to close no trades without our sanction; under any circumstances we will pay 100 cents on the dollar."

This letter was regarded as decidedly peculiar, and those who had deals with the firm in question did not know exactly what to do. It was regarded as a confession of weak-ness, almost equivalent to a confession of fallure. Those having contracts with the firm consulted with its members, and according to their account were inclined to treat them very generously. In nearly all cases the creditors agreed not to close the deals, not to press matters more than was

R. W. Golsan said: "The fact of the matter is that we have been losing very heavily, and wish to close out our deals, and go out of business. We have consulted those with whom we have contracts, and find them very obliging. There is no failure about it, as we shall pay 100 cents on the dollar. We shall go out of business, and that is all."

Many ascribe the increased activity to the absence of the Chicago quotations, which formerly were slavishly followed. As a sign of the growing importance attached to this market, the fact may be mentioned that the Kansas City Board of Trade to-day made ent from St. Louis to replace those formerly Miss Januschowsky, as Mathilda, made a tremendous hit. Her voice was strong, true and clear, and she proved herself to be a prima donna of rare ability. Charles Hedmondt as Arnoid carried the audionce by storm and received round after round of applause. Tagliapietra as Tell, Vetta as Walther and Miss Susie Leonhardt as Jenny sang with spirit and art, and the performance throughout was admirable in every respect.

Miss Juch will appear to night for the first time in this city as "Carmen" in Bizev's romantic opera of that name. As Carmen the prima donua will be seen in a role radically different from any that she has heretofore essayed, and one which has made probably the triumph of her esseer. Miss Juch's Carmen is said to be absolutely of her own creation, the result of two years' study of Bizet's masterpiece and Prosper Merimee's novel, upon which the opera is based. The remaining appointments in the onat is as follows: Miss Januschowsky as Michaela, Miss Macnichol as Mercedes, Miss Leonhardt as Frosquita, Edward Scovel as Don Jose, Tagliapietra as Escamillio, one of the celebrated barttone's greatest roles, and Knight as Zuniga. The sale of seats for tonight is enormously large and indicates that a multitude larger than that of Monday night will attend this evening's performance. formers. Miss Januschowsky, as Mathilda, Senor Pablo Martin Meliton Sarasate was born in Pameluna, in Spain, March 10, 1844, and entered the Paris Conservatoire, January 1, 1856, where he became the pupit of Aiard. and gained the first prize for selfeggio and violin. Since his debut as a virtuoso, Sarasate has achieved success in every city in Europe, from London to Mescow. His technique is marvelous and he is also a composer of great meric. His transcriptions of Spanish airs and dences display his great skill as a virtuoso.

Eugen Francois Charles D'Albert, the planist, was born in Glasgow, April 10, 1864. His musical genius showed itself from a very early age and he was carefully taught by his father. In 1876 he was elected New Castle scholar in the National Training School, London, where he studied the plano with Mr. Stainer, Mr. Prout and Sir Arthur Soillivan. His progress in the abovementioned branches was rapid and beilliant, and he also occupied himself serious in his studies of languages. In 1881 he was elected Mendelssohn scholar, which gave him a year abroad. In November of that year, at the instance of Herr filohter, he went to Visnas, and very shortly afterwards pizzed the first movement of his own concerts at one of the Fullbarmonic concerts there. Another matter which the followers of Colorado points propose to take in hand is the recent ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission, secured through the manipulation of the Eastern dealers in canned and like goods against the special rates which the railroads have been giving on the car lots. Under the ruling of the commission the jobber who ships in car lets cannot secure any better rate than in car lots cannot secure any better rate than the man who ships 500 pounds. This, the wholesale men claim, is an injustice to them which they will seek to have remedled.

By Telegraph to the Post-Disparch.
DOVER, N. J., April 9.—A colony of Hungarians engaged at work in the iron mines at Hibernia, about seven miles from this place, began their Easter celebration on Good Friday and ended it with a murder on Easter Monday night. About a year ago one of them, named Palmall Asoorki, had a fight with Lorbold Barcik, John Stanik and Pat Krowalzik, and there has been a feud ever since. Monday afternoon Asoorki was a titacked in the door yard of a tenement by the other three men, who beat him with showels and bottles until he sank to the ground. Then they dragged him into the house. Yesterday morning it was ascertained that Asoorki died during the night. His head and body were found to be a mass of contusions and fractures. His chest was literally purple from the effects of kicks or poundings. Some of the other miners who were deputized a a constables arrested Barcik, Stanik and Krowalzik, and held them until the arrival of officers, when they were committed to the Morris County lail at Morristown. Coroner Hazan is engaged in working up the case. some reason for it

We never have compelled anyone to use Pearline. We'd like to, but it isn't feasible. Besides, it isn't necessary. Millions use Pearline, and have tested and proved it. It's too old to be unknown, if it were a fraud, but where is the thing as popular and yet so young? If you know Pearline, you know the reason. In all washing and cleaning, there's nothing that saves as much labor and does as much work. It hurts nothing, saves wear on everything, costs no more than common soap and is more economical. Reasons enough for most women; think, are they not good

Wheat—St. Louis went in this morning to buil the markets of the world. There were enough damage reports on hand to excite the iocal crowd, and finding little wheat for sale in the pit, they began bidding the price up from the first jump. It was a trasy market for a while, the St. Louis buils paying no attention to outside markets, which started in weak, but soon attention to outside markets, which started in weak, but soon attention to outside markets, which started in weak, but soon attention to outside markets, which started has been active from the opening and with a very large business denil occally, and from the whiter wheat districts. The damage from day to day appears to grow worse instead of better. The Government report is due to-morrow. It is supposed it will not show worse instead of the fact by the first two large and follow over 80 per cast of the average condition at this season of the year. The bayers to-day are included in the part of this meritage of the fact that the policy is due to-morrow. It is supposed it will not show worse instead of better. Butter and Eggs. Butter — Receipts, 38,369 ibs. A further decline has taken place. The poor windup of the market last week gave the impression that prices would still further decline this week, but no one was prepared for so serious a break as actually occurred Monoay. The weight was too heavy to carry and the bottom dropped out completely. Butter at Eighn Menday was week at 19 to 20c, a drop carry and the bottom dropped out completely. Buter at Eighn Menday was weak at 19 to 20c, a drop of 4c a lb. Now the question is, what will seconds and dairy sell for? They will have to come down accordingly. Stocks are coming in freely and it will be almost impossible to prevent stocks from accumulating. Buyers are holding back and the feeling is that prices will go still lower bofors the week is out. Shippers should not hold any goods, but ship freely, as our market to-day is better than the Eastern markets. The receipts in New York are very large and a big break is expected. We again advise shippers and manufacturars of butter to keep the prices down at the other end, as the lowest price is not yet reached. Old goods dead dull and only sell for grease prices. Roll butter not wanteds weather too warm.

THE ELECTION FRAUDS.

James Sweeney's Case Called and the Trial Begun.

The election fraud cases have come up again and the United States Circuit Court began the hearing of the case against James sweeney this morning. These cases originated in the District Court and several of them were tried there, but ffone were successful, and District Attorney Reynolds finally concluded that it was a waste of time to continue cluded that it was a waste of time to continue to try the cases in the District Court, where he got either a hung jury or a discharze, never a conviction, so he had some of them certified up to the Circuit Court and the Sweeney case is the first to be taken up there. It will be something of a test case and if it fails the prosecution of the election fraud cases will probably be dropped. Sweeney is charged with fraudulently procuring naturalization papers for aliens who were not entitled to them, thus violating the naturalization liw.

EASTON, Pa., April 9.-Wm. H. Bartholomew was hanged in the jail here this morning at 10:33½ o'clock and was pronounced dead at 10:48½. His neck was broken. Although firm step. After all arrangements had been completed he declared himself innocent, and manding that Detective Johnson and his last words were mixed with violent oaths and blasphemous language. The drop oaths and blasphemous language. The drop fell in the presence of a thousand persons and during a heavy shower of rain. A minute later after the drop had fallen a slight nervous twitching of the body was noticable and there was no other evidence of distress or suffering. Immediately after Bartholomew had been pronounced dead, the body was attired in a black suit, placed in a ceeffin and sent to the home of his family at Weaversville, where the funeral will take place next Sunday. Bartholomew behaved well during the morning, but refused to dress or to eat or to join the ministers in prayer. Religious services were, however, held in his cell. Just before the arrival of the Sheriff he said to Rev. Dr. Kurtz of Allentown: "As sure as there is a God in heaven I am as innocent of the shooting as you are."

services were, however, held in his ealt Just before the arrival of the Sheriff he said to Rev. Dr. Kurtz of Allentown: "As sure as there is a God in heaven I am as innocent of the shooting as you are."

The crime for which Bartholomew was hanged was the Drutal murder of Aaron W. Dilliard, near Beersville, Northampton County, on the morning of September 6, 1889. Bartholomew and Dilliard were farmers and lived about three miles apart. Bartholomew was a widower and frequently visited Dilliard's home. These visits resulted in a scandal and Dilliard changed his place of residence. The visits were afterwards renewed and Bartholomew was made welcome because he helped support the family. Later on Dilliard had reason to suspect his wife's fidelity and he proposed to move to Mercer County. Bartholomew wanted to go along, but the Dilliards refused to take him. Then Bartholomew proposed an elopement, but Mrs. Dilliard seclared she would not leave the place until after her husband's death. Two days before the murder Bartholomew called on Mrs. Dilliard and proposed to put her husband out of the way. It was agreed that he should come shortly after midnight and disturb the chickens that roosted on a tree near the house. Mrs. Dillard was to arouse her husband, send him down to the yard with his gun and a lighted lantern, and when he neared the tree she should tell him to look up at the heas. The plan was carried out. Dilliard was shot near the tree; he staggered back to the house and fell dead at his wife's feet. Bartholomew returned to his home and when the crowd gathered the next morning to inquire about the tragedy they were told that Dilliard had been shot by a chicken thief. Bartholomew was at once suspected of the crime, detectives inade up a strong case of circumstantial evidence against him and he was arrested. Mrs. Dilliard made a full confession on the day of her husband's funeral and repeated it at Bartholomew strial on a promise that her sentence would be commuted to imprisonment for life. Bartholomew strial on a p

Strong Drink the Cause. murderer, did not retire until 2 o'clock, when he arose, and after carefully making his collet, ate a hearty breakfast. His spiritual toilet, ate a hearty breakfast. His spiritual adviser, Rev. Mr. Bowman, called about 8 of clock and remained with him until the last. The condemned professed much interest in religion and said he expected to be saved. He attributes his downfall to strong drink. An immense crowd was present, but the best of order was maintained. All saloons were closed to-day by order of the Sheriff, Carter partook of a hearty dinner at noon and then retired to his cell for prayers. Shortly before the Sheriff arrived to take him to the scaffold, Carter sang "Nearer My God to Thee" in a voice that resounded through the jall.

At 1:46 Sheriff Vine ascended the scaffol hat ise cherin vine ascended the scanol leading the condemned man. Rev. Bowman and two deputies were on the scaffold and after prayer by Rev. Bowman the condemned man made a brief speech, thanking the jail officials for their kindness, and warning those who heard him not to do as he had done. He who heard him not to do as he had done. He then smilingly bade his minister and the sheriff good-bye. The Sheriff meancied him, adjusted the noose, put on the black cap and all others retired, when in full view of the 300 people present at 1:51 the trap was sprung by the Sheriff. His neck was not broken and eight minutes after the drop feil the pulsations were forty-four to the minute. At 1:54 o'clock, after hanging fifteen minutes, Carter was pronounced dead by the physicians, death having resulted from strangulation.

The crime for which Charles Carter gave up his life on the scaffold was committed in Johnstown on the night of the 8d of last No-The crime for which Charles Carter gave up his life on the scaffold was committed in Johnstown on the night of the 8d of last Nowember. Carter is a colored man, and had been working around Johnstown some years. He was a rough character and was frequently lif the hands of the police, and during the Republican jubliation over the election of Harrison in less he fired a revolver into the ranks of the paraders and seriously injured a young man named Kuriz, For this offense, however, he was let off with slight punishment. He was unmarried, and in company with a colored man named John Matthews frequently visited a house of lil-fame, where the shooting was done, kept by Annie Roberts, a white woman, who was married to a colored man. On the night of the murder Carter and Matthews had had some trouble about one of the women and Carter threatened to fill him with lead. When Matthews entered the room he put his threat into execution and shot him several times with a pistol, from the effects of which Matthews died the next day. Information was then made against Carter for murder, but he had fied, but was captured tendays later at Harrisburg. Pa. At the December term of court he was tried and counvicted. He had no witnesses in his behalf and the Governor promptly set the 5th of April for his execution. A general feeling prevailed that he had been severely dealt with and the whole Cambria County Bar Association, with the exception of Mr. Fenlon, who was acting as District Attorney at the time, joined in a petition to the Pardon Board for a commutation of the sontence. Judge Johnston, who sentenced him, as well as the jury who tried him, also joined in the petition, but it was refused. Carter comes of rather bad stock and has always borne a bad reputation in this place. One of his brothers was hanged in Pittsburg some years ago, having been convicted of murder, and another brother is now doing time in the Western Penitentiary.

known girl who was murdered, was found lying in the road between Snowshoe and Karthaus, about haif a mile from the latter place. She was soon identified as pretty Clara Price, the 17-year-old daughter of David Price of Karthaus, who had started for Karthaus from Eugene heeker's that fatal morning. She had been visiting there and was on her way home with articles for her parents. In was engaged to be married. An inquest was held by Squire Rankin and Dr. Nerling and it was found that an attempt had been made to outrage her. Her underloities were badly torn and bloody, but the villain had not succeeded in his dastardly attempt and she had evidently broken away from him. Fearing that she had recognized him, and terrified at the consequences of discovery, on the spur of the moment he shot her, the last and fatal shot going through the main pulmonary artery and producing instant death. From a description of a person seen following shortly, after the girl passed down the road, Alfred Andrews was arrested at his home in Brisbin on Sunday. December 1, and brought to jail at Belleronte on the following Monday. He admitted having been in that vicinity on that day. He had shearing before Judge Furst on the following Saturday and was held for trial. The trial began on January 27 and was hardly fought. The evidence was entirely circumstantial. The testimony by experts showed that blood had been in his boots and it was human blood. Over one hundred witnesses were called and Andrews himself was put on the stand, but nothing was elicited from him, he telling a well-concocted story, which the prosecution could not break down. The chain of circumstantial evidence was conclusive, however, and on Tuesday, February 20, the jury, after being out one and one-half hours, returned with a verdict of murder in the first degree. The excitement was at white heat and all through the trial with the evidence produced at the trial with the single exception that he swears he did not attempt to outrage her. He afterwards made a complete confessio nounced dead tweive minutes later. On the scaffold he reiterated his innocence of the crime.

Zach Taylor spent the last few hours of his life taiking about things when he was a free man, eating and siceping as he would under the most ordinary circumstances. Rev. Maxwell has been with him much of the time since he arrived and Taylor has expressed himself as willing to die. He taiked very caimly to Rev. Maxwell this morning giving him certain derection as to his funeral. The crime for which he suffered death was the murder of Wim. McCausland, the Allegheny drover. Geo. Clark, his brother-in-law, suffered death a few weeks ago for the same crime. McCausland was found in the woods with a builet hole through his head and his pockets riffed. Clark, Taylor and James Neff were arrested and all were convicted, but Neff applied for a change of venue to Washington County, and upon a second trial was acquitted.

Telegraph to the Post-Disparch. LITTLE ROCK, April 9 .- Advices received here this morning from Amity, a small town in the interior of Clark County, are to the effect that the citizens of that community are greatly exercised over the discovery yester day that Isaac Widener, a highly respectable citizen, had been poisoned by his son Sil citizen, had been poisoned by his son Silvester, and that the inhuman wretch had been aided in the disbolical deed by his mother. The victim had been dead several hours when the discovery was made. Young Widener had frequently abused his father, and on more than one occasion the neighbors had warned him to desist. Monday night about 12 o'clock frank Samders, a son 16-law who lived in a house near by, heard the old gentieman calling for help. He got up and went out on his back porch to disten if he could hear anything further, and on failing to do so retired again. About day light Mrs. Widener rushed into Sanders' house and excitedly asked for a bottle of camphor, stating she helleved her husband was dying of colic. Sanders returned with her to the house, and on entering the room discovered that Widener had been dead several hours. Mrs. Widener claimed that the cold gentleman had died of colic, but on being questioned admitted that her son Silvester had given him some medicine the day before. The evidence was so strong that both Mrs. Widener and her son were arrested, and a coroner's jury impanelled to inquire into the circumstances surrounding Widener's death. An autopsy discovered a considerable quantity of argenic in his stomach, and the lievestigation warranted the Coroner fully in sending both prisoners to jail without bond. Fears are expressed by the citizens that young Silvester will be taken from jail and lynch ed. vester, and that the inhuman wretch had been

A Foul Murder Brought to Light.

Telegraph to the Post-Disparce. received here this morning states that as the Dayton, Tenn., just after court adjournment, between Tom Vickers and Sherman Wyrick, which came near ending in a riot, the story of a tragic murder which occurred in Meigs County in 1881, has been brought out. Sherman Wyrick's cousin, Lee Wyrick, was murdered by John Vickers, father of Tom Vickers. Upon the payment of a large sum of money and an agreement to leave the country and never return, old man Vickers was not prosecuted. He has recently returned after nine years' absence, and will be arrested and prosecuted for the foul murder he committed. A feud has existed between the two families ever since the murder. Much excitement has been caused and more trouble is feared. Dayton, Tenn., just after court adjournment

ABRESTED FOR BIGAMY. Woman Claiming to Be Wife No. 1 Causes

the Arrest of John Sturr. Yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Hardtwig arrested John Sturr and locked him up in the city jail on a warrant sworn out, charging him with bigamy. The prisoner took his arrest very coolly, and seemed to be expecting something of the kind.

It is alleged that Sturr has been thrice married without at any time going to the trouble and expensed of securing a legal separation from his trusting helpmates. In January a lady, giving her game as Miss Louise Schneider, went to the office of Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Dierkes and told her story. She said ane was Mrs. Johnston and her home was in Columbus, O. Twelve years ago, in Columbus, she said she had been married to Sturr and bore him three children. About five years ago Sturr deserted her, and try as she might she was unable to learn his whereabouts until a few weeks before.

It seems that three years ago Sturr came to St. Louis, and, after a short courtship married a highly respected young lady, the daughter of a farmer living at Fern Ridge, near Greve Court Lake. By this wife he has had one child. She too has been deserted and has returned to her parents.

Sturr has been for some time employed as a foreman at the Milburn Carriage Works. As soon as possible after the issuance of the warrant Deputy Hardtwig went to the factory, but Sturr was not to be found, he having got wind of the arrival of wife No. I and fied. A sharp watch has been kept ever since. Yesterday he showed up at the factory for the first time in a number of weeks, and was at once "mabbed."

Wife No. Its still in the city and declares her intention of remaining to prosecute Sturr to the Vull extens of the law. It is rumored that between his desertion of wife No. I and fled. A sharp watch has been he feet for Ridge lady Sturr duped another unfortunate, who was likewise deserted after a year of wedded life. The prisoner declines to talk. THE REMARKABLE STORY OF LOUIS OGREN A SWEDISH FUGITIVE.

Killing a Han, He Locates in Chicago and Tries to Reform—There He Stabs a Man, Who Had Him Discharged From

NEW YORK, April 9 .- Louis Ogren, a Swede mond Street Jall, Brooklyn, by Justice Kenns in the Gates Avenue Police Court until Super intendent of Police Campbell could communi cate with the Chicago authorities and ascer tain the truth of a somewhat remarkable story the prisoner told. Ogren has been in Brook of an attempt to commit suicide. The show on Atlantic avenue near New Jersey avenue he entered the store and priced some pistols The clerk who was behind the counter asked him how much he wanted to pay for one.

"I want one to kill a dog with, a cheap one, and one that will go right off," replied selected a seven shooter and told the clerk to load it so that he could shoot it off and ascertain whether it would suit him. The clerk refused to oblige him and Ogren went out.

For two hours he begged for a penny on a corner a few blocks away and when he had 85 cents he returned to the store and asked for the revolver he had chosen on his first visit. wanted 5 cents worth of cartridges. While the ran to the door, where he forced one into the barrel and placing the weapon to his right temple shouted, "This is the dog I want to kill." The cartridge failed to explode and before the would-be suicide could harm himself the cierk and one of the proprietors wrested the revolver from him

At the station house Ogren refused to talk further than to say that he was tired of life because misfortune had followed him for three years. After he had been in a cell a few hours a policeman was detailed to watch him in order to thwart any further attempts a self-destruction. The policeman opened the cell door to hand Ogren something to eat, when the latter knocked him down and running up the stairs scaled a fence running up the stairs scaled a fence and was soon running across the lots. The police gave chase and after a run of several blocks the fugitive was run down. When asked by Justice Kenna why he attempted suicide, Ogren replied in broken English that he had been a bad man nearly all his life.

"I was chased from pillar to post in Sweden by the bolice for having nearly killed a countryman," continued Ogren. "I had to flee to this country and thither I was pursued. I finally cluded my pursuers and reached Chicago, where I tried to reform. I got a job, but after working six months a man in the place had the boss bounce me, and I stabbed him ten days ago. I heard he was dead and I had to run away sgain. My conscience has troubled me since and I could not sleep and to-day I determined to end this misery."

Ogren was then remanded to jail. The police who were notified at once entered into communication with the Chicago anthorities. A reporter man at lik with Ogren in jail yesterday afternoon. He is of medium size, with sharp features and an intelligent face. He was reticent at first, but as tears began to course down his cheeks he said: "The reason I tried to kill myself was because I have been a bad man nearly all my lifetime. I began to steal from my mother when I was young and wnen I was arrested I went from bad toworse. I got into a quarrel with an officer in my native city, Helenberg, Sweden, two years awo and I stabbed him. He was badly wounded, and I was chased all over the country, but finally I escaped to Denmark and crussed the ocean. My wife and child are still there. When I resched this country I went direct to Chicago and tried to lead a new life. For nearly two years everything went well with me.

"For the last six months I worked for H. and was soon running across the lots.

Chicago and tried to lead a new life. For nearly two years everything went well with me.

ANOTHER AFFRAY.

"For the last six months I worked for H. F. Scheideman, hay and feed dealer at No. 749 West Lake street, Chicago. With the $20 a month I got I was enabled to lay by a little every week that I sent to my wife through relatives in Norway. About ten days ago the boss discharged me. I found out that a fellow workman caused my discharge. I taxed him with it and we had a quarrel. He struck me and I stabbed him in the face and left breast with a pocket knife. I went to a friend's house and the next morning heard that the man I stabbed was dying. With $10 I had in my pocket I bought a railread ticket. When the train left the depot I thought I was safe. I handed the conductor my ticket and he looked at me sharply and then retained my ticket. When the train reached a certain town in Indians, the name of which I have forgotten, two men whom I look to be policemen got on and the conduct r directed them to ms. I ran out of the back door and jumped off the train while it was moving. I injured my leg, but managed to crawi to a farm-house, where they helped me. The policemen did not come back. I tramped to New York, stealing a ride whenever I could. I came over here and the night before last slept in a shed off the water-works on Atlantic avonué. I had no money nor food. I determined to kill myself. I have no friends in this country and have been a fugitive from justice so long that I can stand it no longer."

The police are inclined to believe Ogren's story, although they think he may have become insane through want and trouble.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

People of Costa Rica and Nicaragua Dis gusted With the Slow Work.

ranh to the POST-DISPATCH Jose, Costa Rica, was here a few hours yesterday. He declares the people of Costa Rica and Nicaragua are well nigh disgusted with the slowness of the Nicaragua Canal Co. and says there will be trouble unless the work is carried on more expeditiously.
"Work on the Inter-oceanic Canal has been carried on more expeditiously.

"Work on the Inter-oceanic Canal has been dragging along at a snail's pace," he said.

"The first shovelful of dirk was turned over a year ago and for an enterprise like that, which is to be finished in five years, there is very little to show for it. The company has just contracted for digging a channel and harbor at Greytown to the depth of twenty feet. This is for the purpose of transporting machinery and plants for canal work. When finished the machinery can be landed at the docks instead of transporting it by rail from Greytown. This work was to have been begun six months ago, but they have just got at it. Contractors who came down to bid on the big out and other heavy work have been put off time and again. Those who have the confidence of the company's officials say it is not intended to do any work for a while, and that smail contracts are let occasionally to keep the enterprise before the public and to satisfy New York capitalists who have put money into the venture. It seems that the plan is to out most of the officials, elect a new set and then go on with the work in earnest. The people of Central America don't feel disposed to lose time by any such plan of campaign. The feasibility of the canal has been demonstrated and if the present company cannot carry on the work, an organization can easily be found that will. A

HANDSOME CORBETT.

MACON'S OPINION OF THE YOUNG CALIFOR NIA HEAVY-WEIGHT.

McCarthy Confident He Can Whil and Cleveland-New Jersey Club Handl-cap Weights-Latham's Clothes Attached

the fact that t he Club has given Jim Corbett, its boxing teacher, permission to engage in such a contest, I doubt, remarks Macon, if the go between him and take place. Corbett ng to meet the big fellow, provided the af fair can be brought off within two weeks, as he must be back in San Francisco the 28th of this month. This can hardly be done under presat circumstances. Despite all the talk about the new Puritan Club, which is to have its ests in Long Island City, there seems to be a nitch in its progress, and if it has a hall large enough to accommodate the throng which would want to witness such a fight and readily accessible to the public of New York, knowledge of it to themselves. Then, again, Sullivan is hardly in condition to engage in an encounter of the kind proposed, and he needs more than two weeks' preparation to let him fit. He has passed the time when he ban engage in four-round bouts with merely a shave and a shampoo for preparation. I saw Corbett spar this week with Mike Donovan, in Brooklyn, and he convinced me that he is capable of giving any man on the foot-stool a good argument with his fists. He has the dvantage of height and reach over Sullivan, and to best him in four rounds John L. will have to go at him like a whirlwind. Corbett is as quick as a cat on his feet, and he is as clever with his hands as any man I ever saw. He has not the punishing power of Sullivan, but at this stage of the game the champion of champions cannot afford to let any man make a stand-off with him, and unless I greatly do in a four-round contest with the big fellow's wind a little out of kilter. Jim has no Sullivan's hitting power, but he has skill, would be for him if he outpointed Boston' would be for him if he outpointed Boston's pride. I hardly think Sully and Jim will cometogether in the next fortnight.

Corbett, by the way, is the handsomest and dressiest fighter the ring has known since John C. Heenan. He is fust Heenan's height to a hair, but he is much broader across the loins, which was the Benecia Boy's chief defect. Corbett is very pleasant and affable in manner and he naturally makes friends wherever he goes. Commenting on his gentlemanly appearance the other day, old Dooney Harris said to me: "Who would take him for a fighter, seeing him all dressed up like that? Why, if he was to come to a gate I was keeping and give me any jaw, I'd tackle him myself, if I didn't know who he was, old as I am. He's a good one, though, and I think he's a coming champlon."

Cal McCarthy on Dixon. Cal McCarthy declares he is perfectly willing to fight George Dixon again as soon as his hand is in good condition, though that will not be until next fall, says Macon. He said to me the other day: "I made a great mistake in fighting Dixon. I had so much the best of him during the early part of the battle that I thought I would rest my right hand a bit and then finish him. My hand pained me greatly, and I thought if idd not hit him with it for a half-dozen rounds the pain would cease, and then I could bang him with it and settle him. To my surprise, however, the pain did not cease, but increased, and Dixon grew strong again. The next time I meet him I will be all right, and then you will see whether I can lick him or not." Cal has saved a listle money, and thinks seriously of investing it in a bookmaking firm this summer. If he does he and Jack McAuliffe will be in the same business this summer. In England book-makers hire pugilists to guard them from robbery and the attacks of crooks. In this country pugilists who are provident become bookmakers themselves. As usual, the American plan is the best. not be until next fall, says Macon. He said to Fought a Draw.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 8 .- The long-expected and much-talked of fight between on a Cougle and James Dohoney, both of Chicago, for $500 side and 75 and 25 per cent of the gate receipts and the championship of Illinois came off this morning at Shelby, Ind., and was declared a draw in the fifty-third round.

Michel Won.

The wrestling match between B. M. Phillips and H. A. Michel for the silver cup took place at the Olympic Club's private gymnasium last night, and was won by the latter after an ex citing contest. First fall was won by Phillips, time I minute; second fall by Michel, time 4½ finutes. After a rest of five minutes the men went at it again. After wrestling thirty minutes without a fall the referee called time, both men being exhausted. A rest of ten minutes was taken, after which Michel threw his man in one minute.

Latham's Woes.

Arlie Latham's matrimonial troubles bobbed up again yesterday in a most unpleasant manner. The third baseman's clothes were attached at the Lindell Hotel yesterday by a tached at the Lindell Hotel yesterday by a constable while Latham was playing at the bail park. This attachment was for an unpaid debt in connection with the last divorce case of Latham here and D. Cass Webb, who was attorney at the time for Mrs. Latham, sued out the attachment. Webb has been attempting for a long time to collect the debt from Latham and is determined to get it if possible. Latham had to parade the hotel corridor for several hours yesterday in his sweater and base-bail welf, while Comiskey secured ciothes enough for him to enable "the dude" to put in an appearance at the supper table.

Ed Williamson and Mark Baldwin will both play in Friday's game at Brotherhood Park. They will leave Hot Springs to-morrow for St. Louis.

Hutchinson, the Chicago pitcher, is a graduate of Yale University. He is by no means a youngster, having finished college about ten years ago.

Will McGill, the boy pitcher, formerly with Evansville, who pitches to morrow for Cleveland, is regarded as a compar twister. He and, is regarded as a coming twirler. He will probably be signed by Cleveland.

The many friends

The many friends of Capt. Comiskey will present him with a handsome testimonial Friday at Brotherhood Park, Mayor E. A. Noonan will make the presentation speech.

Anson has two players that are about as ex-perienced as himself. They are Burnes, his old-time third baseman, and Cliff Carroll, who was a star outfielder in the League nearly ten years ago.

To-morrow's game will be the first chance st. Louisans have had of seeing Wilmot, who was unquestionably the star left-fielder of the League last season. He is in the first rank of every department of the game—batting, fieldlog and hase running.

The Resolutes have organized as follows:
McGrath, c.; Tom Flood, p.; A. Burk, lb.;
M. Fliz, r. f.; J. Hays, 2b.; A. Davis, c. f.; E.
Hogaa, 3b.; F. Rutherford, l. f.; D. Garry, Running at Guttenburg.

GUTTENBURG, N. J., April 9 .- The races at the track here yesterday were run in hall and rain. They resulted:

First race, purse $300, for beaten horses seven furlongs—The Bourbon won by half a length; Mala was a neck in front of Pontico, third; Larchmont was fourth. Time, 1:32%.
Second race, purse $300, for maiden 4 year-olds and upwards, weights 16 pounds above the scale, selling allowances, five furlongs. At the first furlong post Peregal went to the front and was never headed. Counterfeit ran third to Glitter up to the last few jumps, when front and was never beaded. Counterfelt ran third to Glitter up to the last few jumps, when Bergen litted him in two lengths behind Peregal and a neck in front of Glitter, third; Scinnorer, Benedict, Gold Vase filly, James Norris and Wagram finished as named. Time, 1-04M.

Norris and Wagram finished as named. Time, 1:04%.

Third race, purse $500, selling allowances, six and a haif furiongs—Coming toward the finish, Lotion, Neptunis, He and Aftermath made a splendid battle, and when they finished heads apart the crewd cheered. Zulu was fifth, haif a length behind Aftermath. Time, 1:2542.

Fourth race, Wilkens and Itkens Stakes, with $1,000 added, weights five pounds below the scale, one mile and a sixteenth—Flambeau had the best of the send-off, but in passing the stand lima B. shot to the front, and led all the way to the last forlong. Then Hamilton, who was riding Fordham third and fourth, came away and won with ridiculous ease by half a length. Fitzroy was third and Flambeau fourth, Re-Echo fifth and Van sixth. Time, 1:52.

Sixth race, purse $300, seven furlongs—King Idle won; Landseer, second; Cheeney, third. Time, 1:334.

New Jersey Club Handleap.

The New Jersey Jockey Club Handicap, at one mile and a furlong, to be run at Elizabeth on the opening day, next Tuesday, should be a great race and will serve for a line on future events. Secretary McIntyre has labored hard to get the best horses together at weights that will result in a good race and on paper he has succeeded admirably. This is the fist and the man able to name the winner will be considered lucky:

Yesterday's Games.

The Chicago and Cleveland Brotherhood Clubs played an exhibition game at Brotherhood Park yesterday and the former won by a score of 3 to 2. Gruber and Brennan for a score of 3 to 2. Gruber and Brennan for Cleveland and Dwyer and Farrell for Chicago were the batteries. Hase hits—Cleveland, 4; Chicago 8. Errors—Chicago, 3; Cleveland, 1. At Chicago the Browns were defeated by the home team by a score of 7 to 6. Rhines and Harrington and Viau and Baldwin were the Chicago and the pitching and Adams and Kane the catching for St. Louis. Base hits—Cincinnail, 10; St. Louis, 9. Errors—Cincinnat, 3; St. Louis, 5.

Chicago League To-Morrow.

The Chicago League team, in charge of Capt. Anson, will arrive in St. Louis tofrom Hot Springs, and to-morrow and Friday they play the Browns at Sportsman's Park they play the Browns at Sportsman's Park.

Anson was left with a small remnant of a team last fall, but with his usual genius he has gor together an aggregation that promises to sustain the reputation of himself and the Chicago club. He will have his strongest team in the field to-morrow, his crack pitcher, Hutchinson, being in the box. For the Browns Ramsay will pitch, and Hartnett, the first baseman, will make his first appearance in a 8t. Louis uniform. The game will begin at properly presenting the case to the House of Representatives.

THE OPINION IS EXPRESSED that the co-operation of the Southwestern farmers can be more easily secured than that of the grain raisers of any other part of the country. In the Eastern States the boards of trade have long been in existence and the producers do not know the state of affairs that prevails when these institutions do not exist. In the Southwest, and especially in Missouri, the case is different. Men scarcely beyond middle life have painful recollections of the days when they were absolutely at the mercy of the millers and had to accept prices far lower than they obtained as soon as the St. Louis Merchants Exchange and similar bodies were organized. In those days, according to the accounts of men engaged in the grain business at that time, it was a common sight to see wheat stacked up in sacks on the Levee, for which no purchaser would be found at anything like a fair price. No one was willing to buy on the chance of being able to sell unless at a very low figure, the miliers combined and did not purchase more than enough to run their mills on half time, the owners of the wheat were compelled to go to large expense for hauling and storage, or to leave their crop insufficiently protected from rain, and finally were obliged to sell at a very low price.

by commission men for future delivery, and consequently only a small number of purchases were made. When dealings in futures became a feature of the market the position of the Missouri farmer was greatly improved. Those who had sold wheaf for future delivery went among the farmers and boucht large amounts to protect their contracts, and the prices paid at once advanced. The farmer could always find a market for his grain without sending it to the city, could sell a growing crop and in case of an attempt to run a corner obtained prices such as had never been heard of before. Remembering the condition of affairs that prevailed before the organization of conveniently located Boards of Trade, it is believed that the farmers will oppose a measure which will drive the largest purchasers of their products out of the business, and that a strong protest will be made against the Butterworth bill by the very class which it was drawn up to benefit. change, as it was the general opinion that the bill would be unfavorably reported. Many report of the committee.

IT WAS BELIEVED that the objections to the bill were self-evi dent and that it was not necessary to have them presented in a formal manner. The event has proved that this view was not the correct one and the St. Louis grain dealers have determined that they will do their best to make up for neglect in the past. Lawyers have been consulted, who give it as their opinion that the bill, should it become a law and be brought before the courts, will be pronounced unconstitutional, but it would be, it is believed, most disadvantageous to the business of the city and of the State were the decision to be left to the slow process of the courts. A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION

Is Very Desirable, and Especially to Ladies-

Of beautiful feature and form. To obtain this easily is to take Swift's Specific, to rid the blood of all obstructions. Boils, pimples, blotches on the skin, eruptions, etc., evidence the fact that the blood is not in a good condition. These symptoms result from the effort of nature to throw off the impurities, in which she should be assisted by Swift's Specific. This will remedy the disturbance, and bring speedy and permanent relief by forcing out the poison, and will build up the system from the first dose.

New York City.—I was annoyed for a year with pimples and blotches on the face. I consulted prominent physicians and used different kinds of advertised medicines without benefit. Finally I tried Swift's Specific, and the smoothness of my skin was completely restored by the use of a few bottles.

CHARLOTTE RANDOW, Thalia Theater.

820 Sansome St., San Francisco, Cal.—I had been troubled with pimples and blotches on my face and body for years, and found no relief in any of the chemically prepared soaps and medicines prescribed for me by physicians. I concluded to try S. S. S., and four bottles cleared my skin entirely. Use my name as a testimonial to the merits of the S. S. S. remedy.
